Tyson Brothers Took 592 Pictures Of Battlefield, Descendant Tells Society

The story of the Tyson Brothers, pioneer Gettysburg photographers, who roamed the battlefield immediately after the battle here, taking at least 592 pictures of the battle area, was outlined Tuesday evening to the Adams County Historical Society by a descendant, Donald Tyson, of Gardners.

"Their work must have been tremendous. I just don't see how they accomplished it," Tyson said of his grandfather and great-uncle in his talk at the historical society meeting held in the society's meeting room in the Seminary "Old Dorm."

DESCRIBED PROCESS

He described the method used in 1863 of placing a chemical on a clear glass plate. "Then it had to be shaken carefully so it would spread over all of the plate. The next step was to expose the picture and then fix the solution before it dried. A hundred years later the glass negatives are still hard—not brittle, and are in excellent condition. Prints can still be made from them. The method of wet plate photography must have been difficult enough in the studio. But there were pictures taken in the field. They had a covered wagon, which they used as their dark room on the field, and you can imagine the difficulties involved in doing the work in a wagon."

The plates they made of trees ripped by rifle and cannon fire on Culp's Hill, of Devil's Den, and other places on the battlefield, produced stereoscopic slides, which, when viewed Tuesday night were still as three dimensional as they were almost a century ago when originally made.

REFERRED TO GRANDFATHER

Much of Tyson's talk referred to Charles John Tyson, his grandfather, who remained in the photography business here for some time after the battle.

During the battle the Tysons, along with other Gettysburgians, fled the town on July 1, 1863. Donald Tyson read a letter written by Charles J. Tyson in 1884 to a friend describing the battle events. "On the following Wednesday morning, July 1, I arose to find Gettysburg swarming with Union soldiers and the stores all open and doing business. I opened

FAIRFIELD'S LIONS GIVEN HONOR PLAQUE

Fairfield Lions were presented Tuesday evening with a trophy as the regional winners in the District 14C point contest for the club year that ended July 1. The presentation was made by Deputy District Governor William Lau in behalf of Robert Sent, who was district governor for last year.

The presentation was made at the semi-monthly meeting of the Fairfield Lions at the Fairfield Lutheran parish hall. First Vice President William R. Newman presided and accepted the trophy.

After a one-minute talk on Lionism by Guy Donaldson, Olmer Spence announced that Christmas trees to be sold by the Lions will be delivered December 11 and will go on sale the next day. Robert Paden announced the next meeting of the club will be a ladies' night Christmas party to be held at the Lamp Post Tea Room here at 7 p.m. December 17.

James Landis asked clubmen to report Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to erect the town's street decorations for Christmas. Weather interfered with the work on an earlier date.

Zone Chairman Cloyd Shetter introduced Lau before the plaque presentation. Principal speaker for the evening was District Governor Elmer Mentzer, Newville, who spoke on "Who Cares?" He said the projects the Lions in Fairfield have carried out "show that you care for your community and the welfare of your neighbors." He discussed the top projects in the district this year the international youth exchange program and the senior - of - the - month award.

Alden Gleason was installed as a new member of the club by District Governor Mentzer.

Thirty-seven Lions and guests attended the meeting.

LOTT AND FAIR APPOINTED TO DISTRICT BD.

Robert C. Lott, Aspers R. 1, was renamed by the county commissioners today for a four-year term as a member of the Adams County Soil Conservation District.

Lott, a member and officer of the county Soil Conservation District for many years, last month was elected president of the Pennsylvania Association of Soil Conservation Districts at its annual convention in Uniontown. His present term on the county district expires December 31, and the new term starts January 1.

Election of Lott by the state association marks the second time an Adams Countyman has headed the state group. W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville, was named president when the state association was formed in 1950 and served two years in that office.

FAIR IS APPOINTED

Harrison G. Fair, York Springs R. 1, was appointed the commissioner member of the soil conservation district after consultation by the present commissioners with the new board of commissioners which will take over in January.

The county received $2,000 from the state marked for 4-H club activities. The commissioners voted to turn the fund over to the county Agricultural Extension Association for 4-H work.

County Surveyor LeRoy H. Winebrenner was directed to survey the location of the new home of Alden P. Gleason in respect to the boundary between Hamilton and Liberty Twp. Located near Girl Scout Camp Happy Valley, the property for years has been assessed by Liberty Twp. Hamilton officials believe the new home has been constructed on the Hamilton side of the township line.

He and his bishops gave Roman Catholicism its first two council decrees in 93 years—one on liturgy, the other on mass communications—and then recessed the council until September.

But Pope Paul made clear that the nine-month recess would not be an idle period. He told

MORE WOMEN IN SCHOOL IN INDIA TODAY

At the meeting of the Gettysburg subleague of the Woman's League of Gettysburg College, held in the Student Union Building Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Chandradhar Sharma, Rajasthan Pradesh, India, visiting professor at Gettysburg College, spoke on "University Education for Women in India."

He said that while in ancient India women enjoyed freedom and were free to enjoy public life they did not go to college because there were none for women. The women of the upper class were educated by private tutors but there were many illiterate women.

"Although education is increasing today, 80 per cent of the people live in small villages and both men and women are illiterate. Twenty per cent of the college students, however, are women. Only two per cent of the women of college age receive an education, as against the 40 per cent ratio in the United States, the highest in the world. The majority of the colleges in India are now co-educational," he said.

There Are Toys For Boys And Toys For Girls And Toys For Adults, Too! Make Certain You Get Those You Want Soon

If you can find a place to hide them, now's the time to buy them . . . CHRISTMAS TOYS!

Many local merchants have already reduced the prices as much as 20 per cent on the more expensive items and practically all have been cut at least 10 per cent in some stores.

A survey of local toy departments reveals a large assortment of games, gadgets and gizmos for the small fry . . . many of them guaranteed to intrigue parents, too, throughout the pre- and pro-Christmas hours. Many of the new scientific toys will require the assistance of the youngsters, for they are so "far out" that parents can't possibly put them together alone.

Merchants report rapid movement in this year's selections and warn that while supplies are ample so far they anticipate a small inventory by Christmas Eve.

TALKING DOLLS
If you feel the need of another little question-asker around your house, the talking dolls are just what you're looking for. Their curiosities are assorted and, depending upon the brand, they ask from 20 to 120 questions as fast as someone pulls the string at the back of the neck. One asks such real-life questions as "Do you use nail polish?" and "Does your mommy let you have dates?" These are the so-called "status" dolls, designed, no doubt, to give your toddler social confidence for $6.88 to $13.40.

For less sophisticated youngsters there are the old standbys in dolls, including the drink doll "with diaper" at $2.49, the soft "cuddles" babies and plush animals and dolls from $1.59 up. A red plush Santa at $7.88 will prolong Christmas as long as mother can stand it.

ELECTRIC KITCHENS

Little housekeepers will delight in entertaining if they have all electric kitchens, automatic laun-dries, irons that heat, coffee pots that perk and real china tea sets. To complete the "happy family" picture are strollers at $2.98, carriages at $5.66 and sports cars for dolls at $3.88 and up. The little family that likes to travel will plan their vacations around the "outdoor living" set of vehicles that includes a boat and trailer, a jeepster, a "beach jeep" and a compact trailer—all for $9.63.

Musical toys are still the family favorites, local merchants report. Spinning tops that sing, pull toys that jingle and animated nursery pictures that play nursery tunes while the animated figures come to life are in great demand for the little ones. Young furniture becomes more elegant each year and this Christmas a fancy dressing table can be hers for $12.49. For the youngsters who have everything, why not add an elegant grand piano for $13.88?

STATE SENATE TO PICK LEADER

HARRISBURG (AP)—House Speaker W. Stuart Helm hopes the Republicans delay election of a new majority leader until the chamber completes action on its reapportionment bill.

"The matter is up to the caucus, of course, but I hope to get the bill out of the way before we elect a floor leader," Helm said Tuesday, adding:

"I don't want to see the two problems tied together in any way so that there are no scars afterward."

The House convened at 11 a.m. today to work on a bill to realign its districts along population lines established in the 1960 census.

But the Republican majority also is faced with the need to replace floor leader Albert W. Johnson, McKean County, who resigned last week to take his seat in Congress.

Helm said he planned to call in the five candidates for a private meeting prior to today's session.

The candidates are Reps. George Heffner, Schuylkill; Kenneth Lee, Sullivan; Maurice Goldstein, Allegheny; Eugene Fullmer, Centre, and Austin Lee Philadelphia.

There Are

they've ever wanted plus a lot they've never dreamed of, such as an automatic drill that does everything in the shop or home for $2.88, a build-it-yourself battery-operated racer at $3.69, a scaled pair of electric racers at $18.86 and all manner of construction equipment, including a 10-wheel giant dump truck at $4.77. The potential volunteer fireman will want a huge aerial ladder truck at $8.98 and the young wheeler and dealer will want a pin ball machine at $9.63, a bowl-a-matic at $11.88 and a Stanley Cup hockey game at $9.88. Add a real Pepsi-Cola dispenser at $2.78 and he's in business.

For father there's a Clipper ship that sails at $3.43, a racing sloop at $2.77 and a mouse trap game "for children and adults" at $4.83.

For mother there's a round-trip ticket to Bermuda for about $198 ... MSP.

State Authority To Sell Bond Issue

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority plans to sell $50 million in bonds next year to keep its building fund from falling below the $10 million mark.

The GSA executive board gave preliminary approval to the sale at its monthly meeting Tuesday. Under the tentative timetable, the bonds would be placed on sale next February.

Executive Director A. J. Caruso estimated that the GSA's fund balance by the end of February would be about $14.5 million. Based on projected contract awards, the fund would fall below $10 million during March, he added.

"It has been the policy of the authority not to permit the project fund to fall below $10 million," Caruso said.

Will Ask Funds For Educational TV

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Scranton says he plans to ask the General Assembly next year to appropriate $1 million for the further development of a proposed educational television network across the state.

The 1963 legislature voted $970,000—which Scranton termed a "modest beginning"—to lay the groundwork for the network. The governor said Tuesday he will seek additional funds for the program in his 1964-65 fiscal year budget.

Speaking before a symposium on educational television, Scranton underlined his support for the program.

"WITHOUT MY LOVE"

What would I be without you dear . . . I'd be as the sky void of stars . . . floating in space without ending . . . the strumming of stringless guitars . . . I'd be like a tree without branches . . . a bluebird unable to fly . . . the summer without any flowers . . . an echo adrift in the sky . . . the wintertime without a snowflake . . . a dawning that's minus the sun . . . the dreamer without any dreaming . . . a dreary and motherless one . . . like mankind deprived of all freedom . . . and plundered of reason or rhyme . . . a home without love and devotion . . . and church bells unable to chime . . . yes, I would be lost without you dear . . . so I pray we never will part . . . for if you were gone I confess, love . . . I'd live with a cold empty heart.

mutual charity stirred up, not stifled.

CONSOLATION, LIGHT

"We are sure that on a subject of such importance the council will have much to say that will bring consolation and light."

Pope Paul in his prepared text did not mention the word "collegiality"—the term applied to the concept of shared papal-episcopal power. But his words clearly put him on the side of progressive prelates favoring the concept.

A council test vote Oct. 30 showed council members favored the concept 6-1. But an impasse developed when conservative prelates in key positions on council commissions refused to accept the vote as binding on the writing of council documents.

EXTENDS POWER

The Pope Tuesday extended the power to vet in a limited number of fields without reference to the Vatican. That action implied support for collegiality. Today his words were a clearer expression of support.

The Pope promulgated the liturgy decree after the council accepted it by a vote of 2,147-4.

The document was Roman Catholicism's first conciliar decree since a Vatican council proclaimed the dogma of papal infallibility in 1870.

A council press office background paper estimated it would take 7-10 years to implement the liturgical reforms.

The 12,000-word decree represents the most far-reaching change in Roman rite liturgy since the 3rd century when Latin replaced Greek in the Western church.

MODERN LANGUAGE

Among other things, the decree grants permission for the use of modern languages instead of Latin in the Mass and Sacraments.

American bishops announced they would make full use of the permission to substitute English for Latin. They said they plan to meet next spring to approve English translations.

Substitution of modern languages for Latin and other major points of the decree were made known in summary form during the past months of council debate.

With the distribution of the full text today, other details became known.

INCREASES VIGOR

Its opening paragraph said the council "desires to impart an ever increasing vigor to the Christian life of the faithful; to adapt more suitably to the needs of our own times those institutions which are subject to change; to foster whatever can promote union among all who believe in Christ; to strengthen whatever can help to call the whole of mankind into the household of the Church."

MORE PREACHING

"The council therefore sees particularly cogent reasons for undertaking the reform and promotion of the liturgy," the document said.

Blue Army Pilgrimage to Fatima, had a Mass offered for the intention of the Harrisburg Diocesan Council.

Parish councils who have not already scheduled their uterine cancer project meetings are urged to do so. It is suggested that they contact their county cancer chairman and arrange for the showing of the films available and to have a doctor and/or nurse present to answer questions at the meeting. It was reported that Corpus Christi Council in Chambersburg had an attendance of approximately 200 women and the follow-up program is progressing nicely.

Following the closing prayers for vocations and other special intentions including the repose of the soul of John F. Kennedy, light refreshments were served by the Littlestown members, Mrs. Bernard M. Selby, parish president; Mrs. Thomas G. French, delegate-at-large; Mrs. Clyde H. Rohrbaugh, co-chairman of foreign relief and Mrs. Altoff.

Tyson Brothers

my photograph gallery (on York St.) and went to work," Charles J. Tyson wrote. "I was kept busy until near 9 o'clock. I had made an exposure and went into the dark room to finish the picture. On my return I found the room empty except for a man who offered me a bill I could not change. Then I discovered all the stores were closed and not a person to be seen. Just then Judge Russell rounded the corner into the Square and I asked him to explain. 'It means,' he answered, 'that all citizens were requested to retire to their homes as quickly and quietly as possible.'"

PREPARE TO LEAVE

The letter from Charles J. Tyson told how he started home, found his wife at the square "it was then 10 o'clock." They went to their home on Chambersburg St. and filled a trunk with valuables. "By now the cannonading was going on in good earnest and people on Chambersburg St. were advised to go further uptown."

They locked the door of their house, started toward the square with their trunk in a wheelbarrow. They met a friend in a wagon and transferred the trunk to it. On Baltimore St. they found other residents of the town and stayed there until after 2 o'clock. Then an officer warned all of them to leave since it was expected the town would be shelled. They fled first to Daniel Benner's and "before we got there it was raining torrents." Eventually they went to Littlestown where they stayed until after the battle was over. Returning, Tyson found his studio undamaged, but a barrel of 95 per cent alcohol in the basement had been emptied by the Confederates.

OPENED STUDIO IN 1859

Charles John Tyson and his brother, Isaac Tyson, came to Gettysburg, August 16, 1859, to open Tyson Brothers' Photographic Gallery. Their ancestors had come to Pennsylvania in 1663. Born in New Jersey, Charles J. Tyson had been a grocery clerk and learned daguerreotyping in Philadelphia before coming here, to become with his brother, Isaac, the first photographers in the county.

In 1860 he wrote a letter to his sister in Philadelphia telling of a visit to the Quaker Meeting at Flora Dale. The letter noted that they had met Cyrus Griest and that he had three charming daughters. April 30, 1863, Charles J. Tyson married one of those daughters, Maria E. Griest, and they began housekeeping in Gettysburg just three weeks prior to the Battle of Gettysburg.

PARK HAS NEGATIVES

The glass negatives made by the Tysons of the battlefield scenes ranged in size from 4 by 8 inches to 14 by 17 inches. By December, 1863, one of the Gettysburg newspapers, commenting on the photographs, noted they "have become of great value." About 300 of the negatives are now owned by the National Park Service.

In 1863, the Tysons hired as an apprentice 13-year-old W. H. Tipton. In 1865, Isaac Tyson sold his interest to Charles and went back to Philadelphia, and W. H. Tipton was named to run the studio. In 1868, Charles J. Tyson sold the studio to Tipton and George Myers. In 1874, Charles Tyson bought out Myers and then the firm was known as Tyson and Tipton. In 1880 Charles Tyson sold his half interest said.

The decree deals only with Roman Catholic worship, but emphasizes the importance of Scripture in liturgy and advocates more preaching.

Scripture and preaching are strongly emphasized by Protestants. Some non-Catholics feel Catholicism does not pay sufficient attention to them.

The decree sets general principles and guidelines. Special liturgical commissions, set up by national and regional bishops' conferences, will work out the actual changes, including prayers and other texts in modern languages. Commission proposals will go to the Vatican for final approval.

share of the business to Tipton for a house in Gettysburg. BECAME NURSERYMAN

Charles Tyson arrived in Gettysburg "with $10 cash and a debt of $150." His photography business proved successful, but his eventual wealth came from various enterprises. In 1864 he bought a one-third interest in Cyrus Griest's nursery, "Springdale," in Quaker Valley. In 1867 he purchased the remaining interest in the nursery. In 1875 he sold the nursery business. In 1881 he became a charter subscriber to the Susquehanna Fertilizer Works, Baltimore, and two years later became president of that concern.

His home was lit by acetylene gas — made in a special "gas house" on the farm. He devised a method by which a "pull-on" chain attached to the lights ignited the gas, thus avoiding the necessity of using matches. Donald Tyson said he learned as a youth of another device his grandfather had attached to the gas lights. Donald Tyson was intrigued by the gas lights and, being in a room alone far removed from his grandmother, he experimented with turning the light on and off. His grandmother called him and told him "not to play with the lights." He asked how she knew? She told him a bell rang when the lights were turned on.

TIPTON WAS BURGESS

W. H. Tipton, who eventually became the owner of the original Tyson Brothers Studio, "early developed a taste for drawing, some of which came to the attention of Charles J. Tyson, who invited him to learn the art of photography at the age of 13." Tipton, eldest of 11 children, had less than a year of common school education. He was later Burgess of Gettysburg for three terms. The Tysons "always spoke well of him." He in turn named a son Tyson Tipton.

Donald Tyson was introduced by W. C. Darrah. At the business meeting following the talk Dr. Charles Glatfelter presided. Present balance of the society,

Both have crews of about 15 men each and are now working north of the Wheatfield Rd., opening former vistas from Little Round Top to the north and northwest.

OPENS NEW VIEW

One of the most dramatic changes is taking place north of Devil's Den, where a low ridge, which has been practically concealed for years, is coming into view. This was the ground on which Day's and Burbank's Brigades of Ayres' Division, 5th Corps, fought on July 2, 1863, which covered the federal retreat from the Wheatfield in a heroic rear guard action in which 50 per cent of the brigades were casualties.

with the addition of a $1,000 gift from Mrs. Emma Musselman, and other income, totals $3,138.84. President Glatfelter noted that "we already have underway the development that will take that money."

WINTER HOURS

Hours during which the "Old Dorm" will be open during the winter will be Wednesdays from 3 to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Work has begun on the third floor of the structure. President Glatfelter reported. Accessions included the Snyder family papers, posters from M. C. Stallsmith, two pieces of iron and a marker from Pine Grove Furnace, a school bell used by Miss Annie Skelly, a shark tooth stone formation found in Highland Twp., and two old fashioned bottles.

ualties. These brigades were composed of Regular Army regiments, including the 3d Infantry. This unit, the "Old Guard," participated in the recent centennial programs at Gettysburg and was much in evidence during President Kennedy's funeral. A crew of 15 men supervised by Harry F. Biesecker is doing this important work.

Two other crews have also been busy. A small group headed by Allen Farrar cleared fence lines around fields adjoining the Emmittsburg Rd. A new 15-man crew led by Leo R. Ginter has worked along the Taneytown Rd. and is now cutting on the Rose farm south of the Peace Orchard. This was the scene of attacks on the Union position west of the Wheatfield made by Kershaw's South Carolina and Semmes' Georgia Brigades on July 2.

USE BULLDOZER

A bulldozer, operated by F. Nipple of Maitland Bros., has been used on thickets north of the Wheatfield Rd. and on cedar thickets south of the Peach Orchard. It is now removing cedar thickets from the former Roy Wolf property west of Round Top, a tract which was donated to the park in 1962 by the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association.

The crew work has been coordinated by foreman John W. Stevens of the park's staff. It is financed by accelerated public works funds provided by the federal government to ease unemployment in Adams County. All workmen employed have been hired by the park from the Pennsylvania State Unemployment Service on West St. The project will end by January 31.

Anniversary Broadcasts
Rate: A new distinction has come to Gettysburg and a fine compliment was paid to the Pennsylvania State commission by the New York Times Sunday when the program of the final reunion of the Blue and Gray was credited with being the second "best" radio broadcast of 1958. Recognition of the Gettysburg program came as a surprise to members of the state commission and to all of Gettysburg. When advised of the selection this morning Senator John S. Rice, chairman of the commission, said, "It is very gratifying to receive such a recognition. Every member of the commission devoted his sincere efforts to the program and they are deserving of all the recognition possible. I feel also that the radio broadcasters and other operatives are to be congratulated for the excellent work they did at Gettysburg. We gave them every cooperation but they are the persons who flashed our many features to the listening public and did so in a manner to warrant the selections announced by the New York newspaper." Howard Hughes' world-famed round-the-world flight, in which he set a new record, was recognized as the outstanding radio broadcast.

Join National Honor Society: Six members of the Gettysburg high school senior class were inducted into membership of the National Honor Society during the assembly period this morning. They were Donald Fissel, Eleanor Hanawalt, Eugene

Today's Talk

TOO FAST AND TOO MUCH
Nothing is more interesting than growth — whether that growth be in a plant, tree, animal, bird or human being. The growth in nature is always orderly and according to natural law. Scientists and experimenters are forever trying to improve on this process, but they only add a little to the books of it all.

Take many fruits, as an example. Some of them are cultivated so big and "beautiful" that the delicious taste has disappeared. The juice all gone! Take the average mongrel dog and he will put the highly pedigreed animal to shame.

The outstanding men of the world have been those who came up "the hard way." The original fortune maker knew the virtue of a dollar — but not that one to whom it passed, as a general rule. On the other hand, the one who has made that fortune too fast, and has gained too much recognition, he usually is the one who starts soon to slip down hill again, when ill luck or misfortune faces him. No one can fool around with the natural laws of life, ignoring them, and expect to go far, or to stay there when he thinks he has arrived.

He who makes money too fast, and too much, never gets on intimate terms with it. It always remains something alien to him.

Precocious children attract attention, but how many of them distinguish themselves in after life, add to the glory of the world, or to the advancement of humanity? The plodders will outstrip them everytime! It's the average law that people obey, not the exceptional one. They usually forget the latter — even if they have heard of it!

One of the most difficult things in this life to keep is success — especially when it comes too fast and is too much. When people grow step by step, as does the flower there is beauty and great endurance to it. Its memory, as well, endures!

Just Folks

WRECKERS
I watched them tearing a building down
A gang of men in a busy town.
With a ho-heave-ho and a lusty yell
They swung a beam, and the side wall fell.

I asked the foreman: "Are these men skilled,
And the men you'd hire if you had to build?"

He gave a laugh and said: "No, indeed!
Just common labor is all I need."

"I can easily wreck in a day or two
What builders have taken a year to do."

And I thought to myself as I went my way
Which of these roles have I tried to play?

Am I a builder who works with care
Measuring life by the rule and square?

Am I shaping my deeds to a well-made plan
Patiently doing the best I can?

Or am I a wrecker, who walks the town
Content with the labor of tearing down?

Dies In Train Collision: Richard Good Mumma, 43, 67 West Lincoln Ave. died in the wreckage of his coach type automobile after the car was shoved for 500 feet along the Western Maryland tracks when an east-bound machine on the Brush Run crossing two miles west of New Oxford on the Lincoln Highway shortly before noon today. Mumma's mangled body was dragged from the wreckage by members of the train crew at flames filled the front part of the car after spreading from the motor. Engineer Ervin C. Hetrick, Hanover, the only eyewitness to the crash, said that he was traveling east at about 25 or 28 miles an hour and saw the Mumma car with a single occupant approaching from the west "at a rapid speed." The flashing signals were operating, Hetrick said, and added that he sounded a blast on the whistle as he approached the intersection. The crash occurred in the fog but to what extent the weather and wet roads contributed to the accident was not immediately determined. Mum-

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

The Road to Bethlehem. I
Hundreds of years before the birth of Christ, the prophets Isaiah and Micah, who lived in an era of great troubles, prophesied the coming of the Savior. Micah's faith even prompted him to name the town, and our drawing shows him viewing Bethlehem as in a vision. It was he who said:
"But thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel... And he shall stand and feed in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God; and they shall abide: for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth."

JFK Funeral Chief Collapses, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capt. Michael D. Groves, 27, who commanded the ceremonial troops in President Kennedy's funeral last week, collapsed and died of undetermined causes Tuesday night.

A spokesman for the Military District of Washington said an autopsy had been ordered.

Groves collapsed while eating dinner at his home in Ft. Myers and was dead on arrival at the base hospital, the spokesman said.

A native of Ann Arbor, Mich., Groves was commanding officer of the Honor Guard Co., 1st Battalion, 3rd Infantry (The Old Guard), stationed at Ft. Myers. His men served as the death watch, casket bearers, caisson escorts, firing party and graveside sentinels for Kennedy's funeral.

Odella Appleman, was received by Mrs. George Schaefer.

There will be no meeting of the class in January due to conflicting with the community preaching mission. The next meeting will be held Monday, February 3 at the church with group four, consisting of Mrs. L. Robert Snyder, chairman, Mrs. Herman Newman, Mrs. Luther Ritter, Mrs. Rebecca Ealy, Mrs. Denton Barnhart, Mrs. Harry Weisel and Mrs. Raymond Geisler.

Mount Breezes To Easy 107-92 Win; Entertain American On Thursday

In a free-scoring game which saw no less than seven Mt. St. Mary's basketball players score in double figures, the Mountaineers chalked up their initial victory of the season by clobbering Shepherd College 107-92 at Shepherdstown, W. Va., Tuesday evening before 2,500 fans.

Excepting for the opening minutes when Shepherd took a 4-0 lead, Jim Phelan's outfit was pretty much in command. However, it took a lay-up by Bernie Haag to put the Mounts ahead for keeps at 21-19 after 11:42 minutes of the first half.

Thereafter the Mountaineers pulled away to win convincingly. At half time the score was 58-41. Throughout the second half the Mount held at least a 10-point lead.

BIG POINT MEN

Haag topped the Mount scorers with 18 tallies with Lou Martine netting 16, Jack Campbell and Ed Polk 15 each, Mike Johnson 14, John Carrell 11, and Ed Sarmir 10.

Scoring honors for the game went to Bill Thompson of Shepherd who rammed through 29 points with teammate Jim Every contributing 21.

The Mount, now 1-1, plays its first home game Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when it meets American University of Washington, D.C., at Emmitsburg.

HENDLEY AND SHAW TRADED

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Half the clubs in the major leagues probably would be better off today if they could exchange their pitching staffs for nine of the pitchers the Milwaukee Braves have traded or sold in recent years.

The list includes such starters as Juan Pizarro, now with the Chicago White Sox, Bob Buhl of the Chicago Cubs, Joey Jay of the Cincinnati Reds, Lew Burdette of the St. Louis Cardinals, Don Nottebart of the Houston Colts and Carl Willey of the New York Mets.

Burdette and some of the others also could be used in relief, along with such other ex-Braves as Bob Shaw of San Francisco and Don McMahon of Houston.

Hendley and Shaw, of course, are among the newest members of the Milwaukee alumni association, having been traded Tuesday to San Francisco, along with catcher Del Crandall, for outfielder Felipe Alou, catcher Ed Bailey, pitcher Billy Hoefft and another player to be named later.

NEW TIMING RULE BRINGS HIGHER SCORE

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
No, they haven't lowered the basket, widened the hoop or streamlined the ball, but college basketball's new timing rule may have served the same purpose—ushering in an era of the 100-point game.

Where 100-point games used to be fairly rare, they have become rather common in the first few days of the 1963-64 season. All is as it was before, the teams, the players, the arenas and the equipment. Only the rules have been changed.

The new rule dictates that the clock will stop automatically when the ball goes out of bounds. This apparently is adding actual playing time, and providing more time to score. Even against the usual, early-season opposition, witness Tuesday night's proceedings:

SOUND LIKE PROS
—Sixth-ranked Arizona State, admittedly strong, rolled up 121 points to 79 for a New Mexico Western team not in the same class, but hardly considered a weak opponent.

—Miami of Florida whipped Tampa 101-95, Auburn walloped Howard 102-44 and Oklahoma thumped South Dakota 100-79, with the Sooners setting a school record.

—Baylor missed the 100-mark by two points in beating Arlington State 98-74 but ran up its highest point total in history. —And Oklahoma State, Hank Iba's slow-down types for whom 50 is a harvest, defeated Southern Illinois 83-54 for their fifth highest score in history.

16 TEAMS OVER 100
—For three days of action, 16 major college teams now have hit 100 or more points. West Texas State is tops so far, with 126.

They weren't all like that Tuesday.
Tenth-ranked Oregon State defeated Washington State 75-55, Minnesota needed a second half rally to down Iowa State 61-50, Vanderbilt came with a closing rush to subdue SMU 79-60 and Stanford downed Oregon 83-65 as Tom Dose collected 26 points.

MUSTANGS TOP NEW OXFORD 5

New Oxford slipped behind 13-11 in the first period and trailed the rest of the way as South Western topped the Colonials 48-37 on the losers' floor Tuesday evening.

The Mustangs led 23-17 at half time and held a commanding 35-23 edge at the end of three periods. New Oxford rallied mildly early in the last period but could not make the grade.

John Harner of New Oxford was the game's top scorer with 20 points. Jack Sneddon added 12 for the Colonials. Phil Sterner led South Western with 19.

The New Oxford Jayvees won the opening game 45-35.
New Oxford, now 1-1, travels to Severna Park, Md., for a game Friday evening.

HERSHEY TAKES EASTERN LEAD

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gene Ubricaco's overtime goal earned the Hershey Bears a 4-3 American Hockey League verdict over the luckless Quebec Aces and lifted Hershey into the top spot in the AHL's Eastern Division.

Tuesday night's loss was Quebec's second straight sudden-death setback on home ice. The Aces blew a 3-1 lead in the final period and then dropped the decision when Ubricaco skated in alone on goalie Gump Worsley and scored at 37 seconds of the overtime session.

Doug Harvey picked up a pair of assists in his second game for the Aces. Hershey now leads Providence and Baltimore by two points in the Eastern race.

Elsewhere, the Cleveland Barons edged the Clippers, 2-1, on Jim Mikol's third period tally. It was Cleveland's fifth victory in the team's last seven starts and first at Baltimore since the Clippers came into the league a year ago.

Tonight's schedule pits Cleveland against the Western Division-leading Pittsburgh Hornets at Pittsburgh while the Buffalo Bisons entertain Rochester at Buffalo.

LEWISBURG (AP) — Full-back John Barron of Shamokin will captain the Bucknell University football team next year, a school spokesman announced Tuesday night. Barron, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound junior, was twice named offensive player of the week this year by the team's coaching staff.

Gettysburg College's basketball squad, above, will open its 1963-64 season tonight in Philadelphia against powerful St. Joseph's College on the Hawks' floor. St. Joe's opened its season Saturday by defeating Mt. St. Mary's 73-62. The freshman teams will meet in the preliminary.

Ailing Wilt Sinks 21 Points In Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wilt Chamberlain appears to have beaten the bug that threatened to end his string of 359 consecutive National Basketball Association games in New York Tuesday night.

Whether the Knickerbockers, trimmed by Wilt's San Francisco Warriors, 116-108, in the NBA's only action, can recover is another question.

Chamberlain, bedded by a heavy chest cold prior to the Warriors-Knicks game, came off the sick list to play 41 minutes, score 21 points and haul in 22 rebounds.

In tonight's game San Francisco visits St. Louis, New York journeys to Detroit and Los Angeles is at Baltimore.

CANNERS NIP LITTLESTOWN ON LATE RALLY

Biglerville High School was forced to stage a last period rally before downing Littlestown 53-48 as both teams opened their seasons in the game at Littlestown Tuesday evening.

Littlestown held a three-point lead with three minutes of play remaining but Bob Garretson, Canner veteran, dropped through three goals to send his team ahead for keeps.

The lead see-sawed from the start, Littlestown taking a 12-8 edge in the first period while Biglerville came back for a 28-24 advantage at half time. The Thunderbolts zoomed ahead 39-36 going into the final frame.

Garretson, who wound up with 21 points, secured 10 in the last quarter. Rodney Guise added 16 for the winners. Terry Arbogast and Steve Basehoar led the Bolts with 17 and 13, respectively.

Littlestown led in rebounding 40-32 with Eddie Koontz being credited with 12. Biglerville held the shooting advantage via 22 goals on 58 tries as compared to 19 of 60 for the Bolts.

The Biglerville reserves won the preliminary 37-18.
Dan Bushman's Cannners will open their Blue Mountain League season Friday night by meeting East Pennsboro at Biglerville. Jack Bream's Littlestown outfit opposes Kennard-Dale at Littlestown next Tuesday.

TITTLE, BROWN SET RECORDS; UNITAS GAINS

NEW YORK (AP) — Y. A. Tittle and Jimmy Brown each snapped one of the more coveted records in the National Football League book Sunday, and retained their leads in NFL passing and rushing.

Johnny Unita of Baltimore made the biggest advance in the statistical tables, released today. He jumped from fourth to second among the passers, on a fine performance against the Washington Redskins.

Old Y. A. threw two touchdown passes as the New York Giants scratched out a comeback victory over the Dallas Cowboys, and set a career record in that department. He now has 197 one more than Bobby Layne threw in a long career at New York, Detroit and Pittsburgh.

Brown ran for 179 yards in the big Cleveland victory over St. Louis, and made his season total 1,677, with two games left. He set the old record, 1,527 yards in 1958.

Brown also scored twice to take over the scoring lead with 90 points on 15 touchdowns.

Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis remained the leading pass receiver with 66 for 763 yards. Bobby Mitchell of Washington has the most yardage, 1,140 and Terry Barr of Detroit leads in touchdown passes with 11.

Go Back To Dec. 21 For Liberty Bowl

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Because of television commitments, the Liberty Bowl football game will be played as originally scheduled, Dec. 21.

Bowl promoters last week decided to set it back a week to Dec. 28 because the regular football season generally was delayed a week by the President's death.

The National Broadcasting Co. said it tried to clear the Dec. 28 date but could not because of "a sponsor conflict."

Promoter Bud Dudley said North Carolina State, one of the teams that will play in the bowl, is happier about the earlier date. The other team has not been selected.

GRIFFITH IS AWARDED NEIL BOXING PLAQUE

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "This is the greatest honor you can get in boxing. I hope to live up to it this year and every year."

So said welterweight champion Emile Griffith today when told the Boxing Writers' Association had selected him to receive the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque, awarded annually to the Boxer of the Year. "I'm embarrassed but grateful," said Harry Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden when notified he had been chosen for the James J. Walker Memorial Plaque, awarded annually "for long and meritorious service to boxing."

OTHER AWARDS
The writers also named two veterans of the sport, Philadelphia promoter Herman Taylor and Dennis (Dinty) McMahon, chairman of the Connecticut State Athletic Commission, to receive special awards.

All will be presented with their awards at the BWA's annual dinner Jan. 12.

Griffith, a native of the Virgin Islands and now a New Yorker, is the only boxer to win the welterweight crown three times. In two title bouts this year he lost and then won in 15-rounders with Luis Rodriguez of Cuba and Miami.

A BUSY FIGHTER
His record is 37-4, including 14 knockouts. A busy fighter, he will meet middleweight contender Rubin Carter of Paterson, N.J., in a non-title 10-rounder at Pittsburgh Dec. 20.

Griffith, 24, is the sole support of his mother and seven brothers and sisters. He is a leader in youth activities, working closely with the Police Athletic League.

The Neil trophy is named in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed while covering the Spanish Civil War in 1938.

Lutheran Synod Leader Asks Local Level Christian Unity

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Staff Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A prominent West Coast Lutheran leader called Tuesday for Christian unity on the local level.

The plea by the Rev. Carl W. Segerhammar came amidst a background theme of unity and equality at the triennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

Rev. Segerhammar, president of the Pacific Southwest Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, said, however, the "difficulties are far greater than the person's desire to do this."

ELABORATES ON STATEMENT

Elaborating in an interview on an address on local ecumenicity prepared for a business session of the assembly, Rev. Segerhammar offered this example as one of the difficulties:

"Who is going to give the authority for our Roman Catholic friends to speak. After all, I don't speak for the Lutheran Church."

Meanwhile, the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the Lutheran Church in America, said in another interview that "the basic need for Christian unity is for all of us to unite in our worship of God and our acceptance of his grace in Jesus Christ."

Dr. Fry was asked for comment on a proposal Monday in the Vatican City by Bishop Frantisek Tomasek of Czechoslovakia for an ecumenical council of both Roman Catholic and Orthodox bishops.

RECEIVES COMMENTS

He said he would not comment without seeing the full text of the proposal.

Asked if he would be receptive to a similar proposal, Dr. Fry, chairman of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, replied:

"One has to know the attitude of everyone concerned. Let me see the invitation (from the Vatican) first."

Rev. Segerhammar said there are certain church bodies who feel they have the only true insight and no one else has."

"But sitting down and talking together," he continued, "it could help eliminate fears. I think nothing happens in the world permanently until it has been worked out at the local level and accepted at the local level."

INFORMATION NOT USED

"We do a lot of talking to ourselves. We need to filter into the local level. Information has given at the local level but I'm afraid it hasn't been used interdenominationally on the local levels."

In his address, Rev. Segerhammar said local clergymen do not often have an opportunity to attend national or international ecumenical gatherings. In view of this, he suggested local study groups so that ministers and laymen can meet for ecumenical discussion and dialogue.

The assembly tonight will hold a memorial service, open to the public, in Convention Hall for the late President John F. Kennedy. Kennedy was to have addressed the assembly tonight.

PA. REVENUE COLLECTIONS FALL SHORT

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Revenue collections for the first five months of the current fiscal year are running a net $6.4 million below expectations, according to the Office of Administration.

In its monthly report issued Monday, the office said the death of President Kennedy caused anticipated revenue to drop $8.4 million in November. This wiped out a $2,035,000 surplus accumulated at the end of October.

At least part of the drop, however, was attributed to a bookkeeping arrangement by which $2,321,000 in harness racing revenue will be held over a month.

OFF BY 11 PCT.

Revenue collections for November, including the bookkeeping matter, were off 11 percent from forecasts. Revenue collections for the year are running 1.9 percent below predictions.

The state had projected collections for the five-month period since July 1 would total $328,703,000. Actual collections, however, totaled $322,301,000.

State fiscal officials said President Kennedy's assassination Nov. 22 and the subsequent closing of businesses across the state upset state projections for at least four days of November.

The biggest dollar drop below forecasts was in the state's sales and use tax. Instead of the $177.3 million forecast, only $174.7 million was collected, a difference of 1.5 percent.

The biggest percentage drop during the period was in the state's capital stock and franchise tax, running 10.7 percent below predictions.

5 RAIL UNIONS JOIN TO UPSET FEDERAL RULE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five rail unions banded together today for a legal attempt to upset a federal arbitration ruling and the emergency law Congress passed to avert a nationwide strike.

The unions said that, under the arbitration decision to eliminate thousands of jobs, "the railroad corporations would make a handsome profit at the expense of their employees' freedom."

In a joint statement, the chiefs of the five train operating unions said a suit challenging last Tuesday's arbitration ruling will be filed in federal court here Friday.

They also authorized their attorneys to file another suit attacking the constitutionality of last August's emergency law under which the arbitration ruling was made.

Friday is the deadline under the law for challenging the arbitration ruling. There is no deadline for filing the unions' court challenge of the law, and no date was set.

The planned legal action added a few more knots to the snarled, four-year-old work rules dispute that has so far defied settlement efforts under the Railway Labor Act, the Labor Department, a special presidential emergency board and Congress.

Nearly 200 railroads are involved.

The unions refuse to accept last week's ruling of the arbitration board to eliminate slowly 90 per cent of some 32,000 firemen's jobs, and to give the National Mediation Board power to impose binding decisions on the size of train crews if the parties can't settle that issue on a local basis.

The ruling on the firemen's issue guaranteed job protection for most of the 40,000 men involved.

ERHARD LIKES U.S. SECURITY

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard said Tuesday he told President Charles de Gaulle that West Germany feels safer under America's nuclear protection than under France's.

"I told him," Erhard said with a faint smile, "that we have the greatest respect for the French force de frappe (the nuclear strike force De Gaulle is developing), but that we feel much more secure under the protection of the American nuclear forces."

West Germany is linked to France by a special treaty of cooperation and friendship.

But Erhard emphatically told a news conference that West Germany "relies unconditionally on the United States."

"Our first goal," he said, "is to bring the Atlantic Alliance as close together as possible, and to promote reconciliation where there is still misunderstanding."

He disclaimed any intention of acting as a mediator between France and the United States but said he would be happy to do anything to bring them closer together.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRICE DEALE

Synopsis: Three children, Jeremy, Sissy and Miss Jo, were alone in their house when a storyteller came by and offered to tell them a story.

CHAPTER TWO

NOG — THE BUGABOO

Once upon a time, began the Storyteller, there lived an evil Bugaboo in far away Santa Land.

"Oh, no," said Sissy, sitting at the Storyteller's feet. "Only good creatures live in Santa Land. They are Santa's helpers. Even the imps and goblins are good."

"Hush, Sissy," said Jeremy, poking her with his elbow. "He knows the story."

The Storyteller opened his eyes and gazed at Sissy. "You are right," he said gently. "Only good creatures live in Santa Land ordinarily. But it is not always so. And the time I am telling about there was a very wicked Bugaboo there."

Miss Jo gripped brother Jeremy's arm and swallowed. "What was his name?"

"Nog," said the Storyteller. He closed his eyes and was silent as though he had been overcome by the very name of the wicked fiend. Finally, he began again.

In the first place, he said, Nog did not belong in Santa Land. He had always been a problem Bugaboo. The Queen Fairy who is responsible for these things placed him in Santa Land because she simply didn't know what else to do with him.

She tried having him work in the Weather Factory which manufactures storms but Nog was always fouling things up. He pushed buttons that made snow storms in August. He sent showers of hail down at inappropriate moments — like at someone's special birthday party. And one time he hid the key to the sun closet and the sun didn't shine for seven whole weeks. Not once.

Of course, you can't have things like that going on, so the Queen Fairy sent Nog to work with the Halloween witches, thinking if he were so tricky he might as well be useful while he was at it.

But Nog did things no spook or ghoul would ever have done. On Halloween he would catch people's cats and hang them up by their tails. He would take little children's treats away from them and fill up their bags with stones. He would tie up old ladies' doors so they could never get out of their homes — not even if there was a fire.

Well, he was giving the Witches a terrible name, you can imagine, so finally the Witches went to the Queen Fairy and said:

"Look, you have to take Nog back. He's ruining us."

The Queen Fairy was at her wit's end because she didn't know what to do with him. And Bugaboos never die, you know, so Nog was going to be around forever. Then, one day at a party, the Queen Fairy was eating ice cream with Santa Claus and she told him about the problem.

The Queen Fairy was at her wit's end.

Santa said, "Why don't you send Nog to Santa Land?"

"Oh my goodness," exclaimed the Queen. "He would absolutely destroy Christmas!"

Santa took a second helping of peppermint ice cream. When he had finished it he wiped his mouth with a big red handkerchief and said cheerfully, "I think I can handle him. Why not give it a try?"

There wasn't anything else the Queen Fairy could do BUT give it a try so she sent Nog off to Santa Land and hoped for the best.

Now Nog was a purple-faced, toothless, hairless, bottle-shaped creature about as high as Santa's knee. Seeing him with Santa — so big and strong and jolly — you really would have thought Santa could handle him. But oh, my!

The Storyteller paused and rolled his eyes towards the ceiling.

"What happened? What happened?" chorused the children.

Well, said the Storyteller. That Bugaboo made a SHAMBLES of Santa Land!

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CIVIL DEFENSE: Senate sources said today it is questionable whether Congress will complete action this year on a $190.6-million nuclear fallout shelter program already approved by the House.

A Senate Armed Services subcommittee postponed until next week the hearing of further testimony on the compromise bill, which has administration backing.

KENNEDY GRAVE: Crews worked under glaring floodlights during the night to patch up the trampled ground around President Kennedy's grave.

Thousands of visitors have streamed into Arlington National Cemetery since the chief executive was buried a week ago Monday, tearing up the grass on the slope where he lies.

Cemetery Supt. Jack Metzler said workmen were spreading gravel and chipped stone around the area.

AWARD: "With great pleasure and pride," President Johnson has presented the Fermi Award to Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

The award came nine years after the Atomic Energy Commission ruled that although Oppenheimer was loyal he was a security risk, in part because of association with persons known to be Communists, and thus denied to him access to government secrets.

In presenting the award Monday, Johnson noted the citation had been signed by the late President Kennedy.

The award, a medal and tax-free $50,000, was given by the AEC for Oppenheimer's "con-

IRISH TALENT DISPLAYED IN CBS SPIN OFF

NEW YORK (AP)—Television networks and sponsors always like to see in advance the way a prospective new series shapes up.

A half-hour show usually costs about $50,000 to produce. Hence one of the most economical and effective ways of putting a pilot on view is to introduce the new characters in an episode of some established show. In industry slang this is called a "spin off."

Monday night's "Danny Thomas Show" on CBS was the show case for a quintet of Irish comedians and folksingers. Thomas and his busy production company would like to build a series around them.

NEVER LACK PLOT

If the three Clancy brothers, Tommy Makem and Barbara Mullen make the grade, their series would never go plot hungry. The boys sing and play musical instruments. Miss Mullen is one of those witty, peppery ladies television writers are so fond of. Everyone has a rich brogue.

Also, according to a suggestion slipped into Monday night's show, the boys propose to become, respectively, a doctor, a lawyer, an advertising man and, a policeman. With all those things going for them, their series could run forever.

Unhappily, their pilot film was not up to the comedy standards of Thomas' weekly show.

NBC, after considerable study decided Monday to postpone its documentary program on Cuba and the Bay of Pigs invasion scheduled for next Sunday night. The chronicle deeply involved the late President John F. Kennedy and it was considered in better taste to delay the hour program.

Replacement will be a music and comedy special, "The Best on Record" with winners of "Grammy" awards repeating the numbers that won them honors from the recording industry. The taped program originally was scheduled for Nov. 24, but was canceled by the President's death.

NO NEW TEAM

ABC currently is pondering how to make better use of correspondents Howard K. Smith and Edward Morgan, both of whom turned in noteworthy jobs in the network's coverage of John F. Kennedy's death.

Smith has been seen only on a biweekly basis this season in a Sunday afternoon interview program. Morgan has a daily radio show.

Despite reports, however, ABC currently has no plans to team the commentators in Huntley-Brinkley fashion.

BRITONS FIGHT ANY PACT THAT WEAKENS WEST

PARIS (AP)—A British Cabinet member opposed Tuesday any nonaggression pact between the Atlantic Alliance and Warsaw Treaty powers that would weaken the Western position on Germany.

Speaking to a meeting of the Western European Union Assembly, Lord Carrington said of the proposal frequently put forward by the Communist bloc:

"We would not accept any arrangement which enhanced the position of the authorities of the Soviet Zone of Germany."

Lord Carrington, government spokesman in the House of Lords, said any nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Warsaw countries would not in itself guarantee that the Allied access to West Berlin would not be threatened.

Speaking of the assassination of President Kennedy, Lord Carrington said: "His death is a blow to us all. The best memorial we can build to his memory is to work for a Europe united in its aims, political and economic, and united, too, with the United States in its determination to stand together in the cause of peace."

The union is a consulting body composed of Britain and the six Common Market nations of Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands. It is concerned with defense and economic questions.

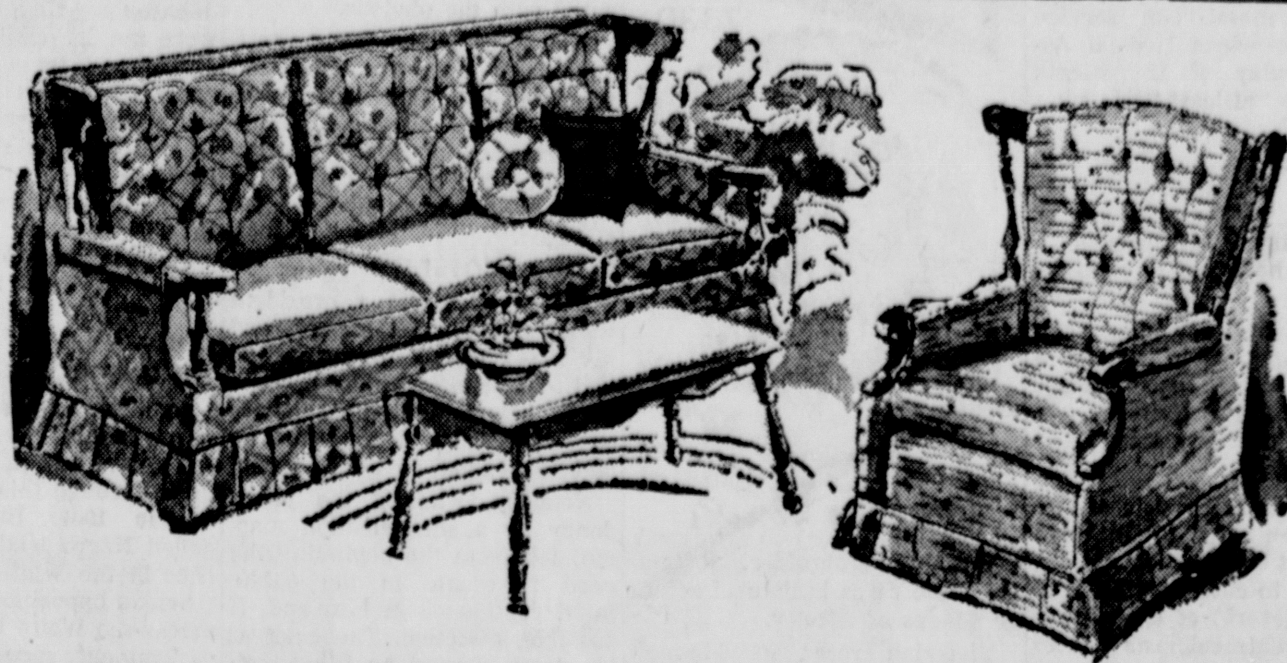

contributions to theoretical physics as a teacher and for leadership in the Los Alamos laboratory and the atomic energy program during critical years."

POLITICS: Republican National Chairman William E. Miller says the 30-day political moratorium he called for out of respect for the memory of President Kennedy does not apply to state and local politics.

In a statement Monday Miller said his appeal of Nov. 26 was for "the purpose of withholding partisan public comments at the national level."

WEIGHT LOSSES POSSIBLE WITH LIFETIME DIET

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON Associated Press Science Writer

PORTLAND Ore. (AP)—The circus fat lady can reduce, but she'll have a lifelong job holding the weight loss, says a New York physician.

He adds that men seem more successful in reducing.

Dr. S. K. Fineberg of Harlem Hospital's metabolism service told the American Medical Association today of 12 patients who weighed at least twice what they should.

The heaviest weighed 640 pounds at the start of treatment. In nine weeks he lost 97 pounds, almost 11 pounds a week. But he failed to continue treatment.

Two patients, a woman scaling 406 pounds to start and a man weighing 363, each lost 130 pounds in 51 and 27 weeks, respectively, Fineberg said.

TWO PHASES
His treatment consists of two phases. The first is intensive with a diet of 900 calories a day, drugs to curb appetite, and drugs to get rid of excess water. The treatment lasts two to 12 months.

Control is modified in the second phase, which Fineberg says should continue for life. It includes dieting, drugs, education about eating and psychotherapy.

Fineberg said prolonged salt and water retention during weight reduction can probably be blamed for most failures in treatment of obesity.

He explained that water retention can cause a weight gain even while a patient is maintaining a low caloric intake and actually losing fat tissues. The discouraged patient often then abandons treatment.

James MARLOW Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are two Presidents Johnson just as there were two Presidents Kennedy: the public president and the president at work inside the White House.

One is the talking president saying the nice and pleasant things that cheer the American heart even when dressed in generalities and sometimes decorated with the obvious.

The other is the doing president busy with problems and people in the privacy of his office or on the telephone. Sometimes the two presidents overlap and become one because the uses of the presidency have changed.

IN JFK FOOTSTEPS

Before television a president who wanted to get himself and his ideas across to the nation had to depend on public appearances before limited audiences on radio. Most of the time he had to depend on deeds alone.

Kennedy, winning the presidency by a slim election margin, felt from the beginning the need to create in the public mind confidence in him and, if possible, affection. The grief at his death showed he filled both ambitions.

It's no wonder he was constantly before the camera. Nor is it any wonder Johnson lost no time going before the public in person on television in his talks to Congress, for example, and his talk on Thanksgiving Day. He had even greater need than Kennedy to reassure the public the presidency was in safe and competent hands. Kennedy was elected to it, Johnson had it thrust upon him.

EMPHASIZES CONTINUITY

Knowing that Kennedy had broad public confidence, Johnson from the beginning has sought to identify himself as one with Kennedy and his programs

He emphasizes continuity.

He even adopted some of Kennedy's homely touches, like using the same kind of rocking chair, or dropping in suddenly on friends at their home. There is a chance he may overdo this folksy routine.

In time, as he gets adjusted to the White House and can begin to gauge public reaction to his presidency, he should work out his own techniques in public relations, a field in which he now must have an additional concern.

CERTAIN TO RUN

He will almost certainly seek election next year.

But in his years in Congress Johnson's greatest abilities were not in public speaking or public appearances but in an endless, tireless effort behind the scenes to get done what he wanted done as smoothly as he could.

He has been very shrewd at this.

Johnson told Congress he intended to fight for Kennedy's civil rights and tax-cut programs.

TALKING ECONOMY

Southern opposition to civil rights has been so strong Johnson knows he can't get that program through this year. He can try in 1964. But he quickly called Negro leaders to conference in the White House.

Senate opposition to a tax cut, unless the White House reduced government spending, made a cut this year impossible. Johnson at once began talking economy. He talked about it publicly and in the White House.

This is one example of where the public and private Johnson overlaps. There will, no doubt, be plenty more of it. He is making his private activities publicly known as he goes along.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The United States started pulling 1,000 troops out of South Viet Nam Tuesday.

A total of 15,500 U.S. military personnel will remain in Viet Nam, but authoritative American sources reported that their gradual withdrawal may begin early next year.

lovely writes: Please give me some tips on planning meals for two people—one overweight and the other lean. When I diet, my husband drops weight, too, and he needs to hold onto every pound.

The Answer: For everyone in a family, the key to weight control is serving balanced menus at every meal and then regulating portions to each person's needs. In that way, sound nutrition and a desirable calorie count is assured for all. Moreover, the onus of preparing special diet dishes is eliminated.

As a guide to menu-making, here is a sample dinner menu with reducing portions given in brackets:

Meat loaf (1 medium slice); scalloped potato (1 tablespoon); steamed carrots (generous serving); bread and butter (See Footnote 1); mixed green salad (see Footnote 2); snow pudding (1/2 cup); fortified milk for underweights.

Footnote 1: A reducer is permitted two slices of bread daily and one tablespoon of butter or the equivalent in other oils. At

Now, the meal given, just how do the calories add up. With one slice of lightly-buttered bread, the reducer's count is a low 420 calories. Double the servings for others and the total, with milk, amounts to over 1,000 calories—more than enough to put flesh on thin bones, if the rest of the day's meals are equally hefty.

TURKEY SEEKS NEW PREMIER

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — President Cemal Gursel started interviewing leaders of Turkey's five major political parties Tuesday, seeking a solution to the political crisis that followed the resignation of Premier Ismet Inonu's coalition government.

The 80-year-old premier resigned Monday after two of his coalition partners quit.

Gursel issued a statement urging citizens to go about their work and assuring them the crisis would not be prolonged.

Major interest centered around Gursel's talks with Ragip Gumushpala, head of the Justice Party, which bested the coalition in local elections last month.

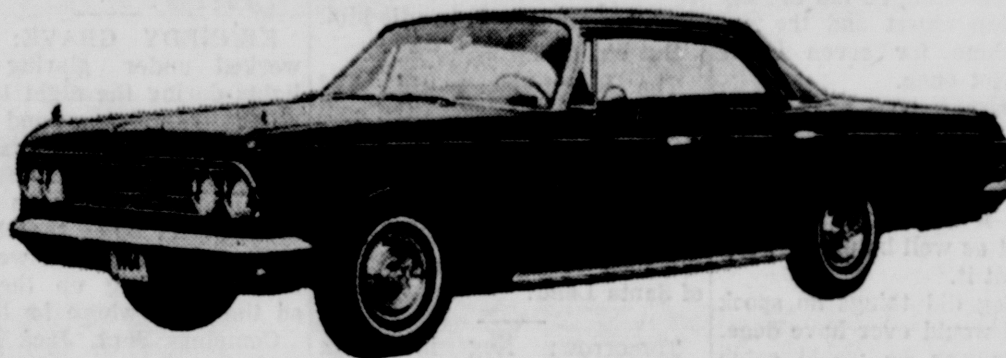

Gursel also was to talk with leaders of the National Peasants' Nation and New Turkey parties, as well as with Inonu and other leaders of his Republican People's party. The New Turkey and Peasants' Nation parties were the other members of the coalition.

A presidential spokesman said it was not known when Gursel would make a decision on a new premier-designate.

The English technique of change ringing, in which bells are pulled by hand rope, is almost unknown in the United States.

Let's Look At The Record

Sales Stamps And "The Beatles"
Cause Riots In Britain

By JIM DAN HILL

LONDON — Napoleon once referred to the English as a "nation of shopkeepers." Were the little Corsican Corporal still around, he would have no reason to change his mind.

Trading stamps and what to do about them is making increasingly tall, front page headlines. Three weeks ago the chief of a large retail chain picked up two inches on an inside page with the comfortable idea that trading stamps were a passing fad — a recent American gimmick that would not delude, value-minded, English housewives.

THEN CAME a somewhat more impressive blurb about a cargo plane from America landing with tons and tons of trading stamps, under guards, to satisfy the needs of a rival chain of stores who wanted to give stamps a trial run.

Now the battle is on. Every one appears to be making money except the husbands who give their weekly pay checks to the housewives. One front page, under a seven column head, screams: "Shops boom as stamp war heats up: For housewives it is a craze like bingo." A London branch manager for a chain known as the Fine Fare reports a "30 to 40 per cent increase in customers." In Leicester, a Midlands borough of about a quarter of a million, the manager of a giant outlet of a major chain, records the most unique complaint in the history of retail selling.

WHEN he advertised stamps and premiums he had such a flood of housewife customers that "12 women fainted." The sales force was "completely overwhelmed." Display stands were overturned; "goods were knocked from shelves." The manager had to chase out the customers, close all doors and re-admit them in small groups. Still jittery, he concluded: "It was . . . frightening."

In Birmingham a manager for the same chain reported a similar deluge of customers and more calmly decided it was a craze no worse than bingo. "The housewives think more of their stamps than they do of their money."

Oddly enough the stores resisting the stamp craze insist their business is also up. They attribute it to the influx of intelligent housewives who have readily seen through "the sham of it all."

NOW THE POLITICIANS are getting into the act. Quite naturally a Socialist Party member of Parliament from Swindon, a railroad town near Bristol, views the current stamp war as the nefarious blandishments of capitalism in its most horrible form. To him the whole thing is "a silly symbol of trans-Atlantic affluence. . . . It is a good example of private profit retailing gone mad."

AND WHILE the housewives are making news in the trading stamp craze, their teen-age daughters are screeching, swooning, blocking traffic and often precipitating riots out of adoration for a rock - and - roll foursome (three guitars and drums) known as The Beatles. Their trademark consists of mop-headed, sheep-dog haircuts that move their brows down to the eye-lashes. It is an honest symbol for low-brow music.

Their product is animated comedy; purposeful bad manners; a rock - and - roll beat, with variations, the clever use of an alleged Liverpool dialect, which happens to be their home town. The public is now dignifying their music as "the Liverpool sound."

FIRST AMPULES OF KREBIOZEN HELD ONLY OIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration, in a new attack on the controversial cancer drug Krebiozen, has charged that ampules of the drug sold before 1960 contained nothing but mineral oil.

The accusation, made in an affidavit filed Monday in U.S. District Court, said that a test of drug ampules also revealed that those sold before 1960 were different from those sold in 1963.

Neither of the ampules contained any of the powder identified last July by Dr. Stevan Durovic as "Krebiozen" the affidavit said.

Spokesmen said it is believed to be the first time the government agency has publicly asserted that Krebiozen has been sold.

AFFIDAVIT FILED

The affidavit was filed in support of the government's motion to dismiss a complaint filed by Durovic, the developer of the drug, seeking to halt a FDA investigation into the manufacture and distribution of the drug.

The FDA's report was filed by Joseph Levine, a government chemist. He said analyses of Krebiozen capsules shipped in interstate commerce since 1960 show they contain mineral oil plus minute amounts of amyl alcohol and a creatine derivative that will dissolve the mineral oil.

SALES HALTED

The sale and shipment of Krebiozen was halted earlier this year after the FDA alleged that creatine had no effect on cancer. The government also contends creatine is readily available in meat and is found in the human body.

In the affidavit, the FDA reasserted its charge that Krebiozen in powder form was positively identified as creatine.

The agency said the Krebiozen ampules that were analyzed were supplied by Dr. Durovic on May 9 and June 8 this year. Other ampules had been shipped by Dr. Durovic's firm, Promak Laboratories, Inc., Chicago, before 1960, the affidavit said.

Durovic said the laboratories have made only one sale of the drug in interstate commerce, but contributions from those who used the drug were accepted.

GOP Passes Redistricting Bill As Democrats Warn It Will Be Unconstitutional

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Republicans finally mustered the voting strength to push through their reapportionment bill despite Democratic protests that it would be declared unconstitutional.

The showdown came shortly before midnight Tuesday after intra-party opposition collapsed when two of three Republican holdouts agreed to vote for the bill.

The 26-23 vote came just 10 hours before a panel of three federal judges was scheduled to meet in Philadelphia to decide on a suit challenging the reapportionment plans.

EHRGOOD HOLDS OUT
Majority Leader James S. Berger, R-Potter, and Paul W. Mahady, D-Westmoreland, said they were requested to attend the court session.

The suit involves five Pennsylvania taxpayers seeking to block the legislature from taking any action on reapportionment until the courts lay the groundwork.

Sen. Thomas A. Ehrgood, R-Lebanon, was the only Republican to vote against the Senate reapportionment plan.

TWO FALL IN LINE
Two other holdouts, Richard C. Frame, R-Venango, and Harold E. Flack, R-Luzerne, withdrew their opposition in the final hours before passage.

"Having failed to satisfy the wishes of my people, I must fulfill the oath of my office and vote for this bill," Frame declared in a brief statement from the floor.

Frame's objection was to losing Warren County from his district. Flack said he realized his "change of mind" would result in Luzerne County getting only one senator instead of two.

"But I am satisfied beyond any doubt that it cannot be done any other way under the provisions of the constitution of Pennsylvania," he added. "I took an oath to defend and obey that constitution which to me is a very serious obligation."

GOES TO HOUSE
The bill now goes to the House for concurrence. The Senate adjourned until 10:30 a.m. Thursday when it will return to consider the House bill, up for final passage today.

The House was idle Tuesday, but its Republican controlled reapportionment committee met informally with about a dozen Democrats to discuss changes proposed by the minority party.

Sources close to the committee said no promises were made.

Four hours of sometimes heated debate preceded the passage of the Senate bill.

Sen. Thomas P. McCreesh, D-Philadelphia, was absent and

31,000 Yanks Leave Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has brought home about 31,000 soldiers who were sent to strengthen the Army in West Germany during the Berlin crisis two years ago, it was learned today.

This represents about 75 per cent of the 41,000 troops, mostly rear echelon elements shipped overseas during late 1961 when the Russians were threatening to try to push the allies out of West Berlin.

The remaining 10,000 reinforcements probably will stay with the U.S. 7th Army for some time.

This places the 7th Army's current strength at about 242,000 men whose fighting power is concentrated in five divisions and a number of miscellaneous combat units adding up to a sixth division.

POTOMAC DAM OPPOSED BY TRIO FROM VA.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Virginia congressmen have vowed opposition to a proposed high dam on the Potomac River at Seneca, Md., because it would flood too much land.

The proposed dam, about 15 miles upstream from Washington, is a key recommendation for development of the Potomac River Basin. It was among the recommendations forwarded earlier this week by the board of Army Engineers to Lt. Gen. W. K. Wilson, chief of Army Engineers.

Voicing opposition to the Seneca proposal are Democratic Senators Harry F. Byrd and A. Willis Robertson and Democratic Rep. Howard W. Smith. The dam would flood about 44,000 acres in Maryland and Virginia.

UP TO 3 STATES
An aide to Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said the senator has always supported river basin development in the past, but since Pennsylvania has such a small stake in the Potomac program, the states most affected — Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia — must take the lead here.

UP TO FRANKLIN
Clark's office said Pennsylvania would support the three states if they "desire the program and fight for it."

Rep. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., said a decision on the Potomac plan as far as it affects Pennsylvania will be up to state leaders and Franklin County, Pa., residents.

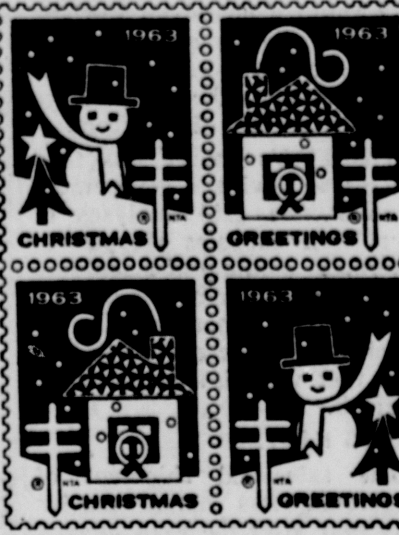

Among the major reservoirs in the plan are these in Pennsylvania, including estimated completion date and cost: Chambersburg 1969, $13 million; West Branch 1972, $14 million; Licking Creek, Pa., and Md., 1987, $13 million; Back Creek 2002, $9 million; and Tonoloway Creek, Pa., and Md., 2007, $16 million.

Frame said he tried desperately to have the bill changed to give him Warren County before giving in. Ehrgood's argument was that Lebanon County is more contiguous with Dauphin County than Schuylkill County.

Traffic Deaths Up To 35,000 In U.S.

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths in the first 10 months in 1963, with a record high for October, totaled more than 35,000, the National Safety Council reports.

Highway fatalities in October totaled 4,000, topping the previous October high of 3,985 in 1936. The toll, the third highest ever recorded for one month, compared with 3,880 in October last year.

The council said 35,170 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents from Jan. 1 to Nov. 1, an increase of 5 per cent over the 33,420 for the corresponding period last year.

Turnpike Users To Mail Money In

NEWARK, Del. (AP) — Delaware recently opened an 11-mile turnpike crossing the state, but at five of the entrances and exits there are no attendants to collect tolls.

What happens if you don't have the right change for the toll — collecting machines — 15 cents? "Mail the money in," advises Charles A. Rutter, turnpike manager.

Rutter said Tuesday he's planning to put up signs with this advice to motorists who are embarrassed about driving past machines at these local entrances without paying. Wherever they do a bell clangs and red

MAY CHANGE DRAFT RULES

CHICAGO (AP) — Still groggy from the marathon draft which took 21 hours and 43 minutes, the National Football League hopes to enact legislation against such future spectacles. "I really can't do much about it," said Commissioner Pete Rozell. "It would take a unanimous vote to cut the draft down from the present 20 rounds. And I doubt if we could get unanimous consent against the 20 rounds but we'll certainly bring it up at our meetings in Florida next month."

Elsewhere throughout the league there was moaning and groaning. Some felt that the teams which operated by telephone took advantage of the situation. Five teams — San Francisco, Los Angeles, Baltimore, Dallas and St. Louis — handled their draft operations from their home bases by either telephone or wire operations.

"They take their sweet time while they sit in easy chairs and we are the ones who have to suffer," said Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions.

The first round took more than eight hours and from then on Rozelle set time limits which league representatives ignored.

lights flash. Reportedly about 12 per cent of the motorists using the local exits go through without paying.

Kennedy's Death From An Assassin's Bullet Similar To That Of Lincoln In '65

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—"His wound is mortal; it is impossible for him to recover."

These were the words of the first doctor to reach Abraham Lincoln's side after an assassin's bullet crashed into the back of his head almost a century ago.

Ironically, they were almost echoed by Dr. Malcolm Perry of Parkland Hospital in Dallas where President Kennedy was rushed after he was shot by an assassin Nov. 22.

"We never had any hope of saving his life," Dr. Perry told newsmen within a few hours after Kennedy's death was announced.

MEDICAL PARALLEL
Another medical parallel between the two tragedies is to be found in a report written in 1954 by Col. Hugh R. Gilmore Jr., a former curator of the medical museum of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology.

Summarizing various records of Lincoln's case, Col. Gilmore had this to say about the medical care given Lincoln immediately after the shooting, while the mortally wounded President still was in the box at Ford Theater:

"Three Army doctors in the audience rushed to the box—the wound was located and artificial respiration applied, for the patient was pulseless and his breathing was hardly evident."

HAD NO PULSE

Dr. Perry, who attended President Kennedy, said that shortly after he reached the president's side in the emergency room, the chief executive's heart action failed and "there was no palpable pulse beat."

"Nevertheless, he and a team of other doctors administered all the various emergency procedures in the futile attempt to save the President's life."

President Lincoln, according to Gilmore's account, "responded somewhat" to the first aid given him in the theater box, "and about fifteen minutes after the shooting he was carried to a house across the street . . . he was given a little brandy which he swallowed but later attempts to give brandy were unsuccessful."

Could the best modern brain surgery have saved Lincoln's life?

HAD LITTLE CHANCE
A couple of years ago, Col. George J. Hayes, chief neurosurgeon of Walter Reed Army Hospital, and a close student of the Lincoln medical history, said in a lecture that, even with such surgery, Lincoln would have had no better than a 30-50 chance of surviving.

"With the type of injuries he had . . . I don't think we (modern brain surgeons) really would have done much better," he added.

There was another sad parallel between the lives and deaths of the two Presidents.

The chair Lincoln was sitting in when he was shot was one which had been especially placed in the theater box for him.

It was a rocking chair.

FELIPE ALOU, ED BAILEY GO TO BRAVES

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP)—"The perfect trade."

This is what baseball observers called the seven-player swap that sent Milwaukee catcher Del Crandall and pitchers Bob Hendley and Bob Shaw to the San Francisco Giants for star outfielder Felipe Alou, catcher, Ed Bailey, pitcher Billy Hoelt and a fourth player to be named later.

The transaction completed Tuesday night was the second major trade made at the winter baseball meetings, which moves from the present minor league headquarters here to Los Angeles Thursday for the major league sessions.

EVERYBODY HAPPY
Giants and Braves officials expressed complete satisfaction with the trade, which they claimed filled in all the spots.

The rival managers were no less enthusiastic. "We've got a more versatile club than any time since I've been a manager," said the Braves' Bobby Bragan. "This really gives us some punch. We picked up 150 RBIs and 41 home runs. Now I think we've got the best 1-2 catcher combination in baseball with Joe Torre and Bailey."

ALOU BIG MAN
"We gave up a good ball player (Alou) to get two pitchers, Hendley and Shaw are the heart of the deal. But now, with Crandall, we've also got left (Tom Haller) and right-handed hitting catchers," said Giants' skipper Alvin Dark.

Alou was the big man in the deal. The 28-year-old right-handed hitting slugger batted .281 with 20 home runs and 82 runs batted in last season. He will play center field for the Braves, flanked by Henry Aaron in right and either Lee Maye or Eddie Mathews in left.

Bailey, a 32-year-old left-handed hitting All-Star catcher, had 21 homers and 68 RBIs on a .263 batting average.

Hoelt, a 31-year-old southpaw, nursed a sore shoulder all last season and pitched only 24 innings.

Hendley, 24, had a 9-9 record with a 3.94 earned run average. He hurled three shutouts and has much promise.

Shaw, 30-year-old right-handed starter turned reliever last season, finished with a 7-11 record, but posted a 2.66 ERA in 48 games, striking out nearly twice as many as he walked.

Crandall, 33, batted .201 in 86 games. He is a veteran of 14 years in the National League with five years as an All-Star.

COURT REVIEWS DOG SENTENCE

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia's Supreme Court will review the case of a dog lover who balked at surrendering his pet for execution.

The court agreed Tuesday to consider the appeal of Jim Laing of Pearisburg, who was fined $1,000 and sentenced to four months in jail. His German shepherd, Ricky, was sentenced to death two years ago in Giles County Circuit Court for sheep killing.

Laing appealed, claiming Ricky did not kill the sheep, but was only standing guard over the carcass.

Twice the U.S. Supreme Court declined to review the case, and Laing was found guilty of contempt when he refused to surrender the dog for execution. He contended he had given Ricky to a friend and could not surrender what was no longer his property.

Ricky, meanwhile, remains safely in an out-of-state hideout.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CAMBODIA: The United States is opposed to a proposal by Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk to neutralize both Cambodia and South Viet Nam but leave North Viet Nam under Communist rule.

State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips expressed the U.S. attitude Tuesday in reaffirming support for South Viet Nam's long struggle to overcome Communist-led subversion.

U.S. officials said the 1954 Geneva agreement already guarantees the sovereignty and independence of Cambodia, as well as Laos and Viet Nam.

MRS. KENNEDY: The Senate passed Tuesday and sent back to the House a bill that grants Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children the protection of at least two Secret Service agents for one year.

The measure also provides temporary secretarial help and office space for one year and up to $5,000 to cover death and burial expenses of the late President Kennedy.

The version of the bill passed by the House Monday authorized secretarial help and office space for six months and set no limit on the death and burial costs.

JOHNSON - McCORMACK: President Johnson has ordered House Speaker John W. McCormack to be kept informed of national security matters and to attend meetings of the National Security Council.

The President took the step, White House press secretary Perle Salinger said Tuesday, "to assure the continuity of government in the event of any contingency."

McCormack, a 71-year-old Massachusetts Democrat, is next in line to the presidency should anything happen to Johnson before his term runs out on Jan. 20, 1965.

Pope Will Visit Holy Land Soon

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI will visit the Holy Land in January, the Vatican press office announced today.

It will be the first trip by a Roman Catholic pontiff outside Italy in 1959 years, since December 1804, when Pope Pius VII went to Paris to crown Napoleon.

It also will be the longest trip ever made by a Pope.

Plan To Force Civil Rights Bill From Rules Committee Threatens Bipartisan Help

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan by House leaders to resort to a petition in an effort to pry the civil rights bill out of the Rules Committee is threatening the bill's shaky bipartisan backing.

Most Republican members oppose on principle the idea of bypassing committees by getting a majority of the House members to sign a petition, and have little sympathy with the drive getting under way to move the civil rights bill to the floor in such a manner.

DISCUSS QUICK ACTION

Meanwhile, civil rights leaders gather today in what was described as "an extraordinary session" to discuss means of implementing President Johnson's appeal for quick action on civil rights legislation.

The group—including Roy Wilkins of the NAACP and Dr. Martin Luther King—is expected to represent more than 70 organizations and plans to hold a closed meeting before visiting President Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

To speed up House action on the bill, Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said Tuesday plans are going ahead to have a discharge petition filed Monday. Democratic leaders are hoping to have a large number of Democrats sign up at once.

WANT 150 SIGNATURES

They would like to get as many as 150 signatures by Tuesday, in which case they feel Republicans would be under heavy public pressure to supply the rest of the names needed to reach 218—a majority.

Such a strategy is almost certain to produce resentment among Republicans who support the civil rights bill, but who have never signed a discharge petition and never plan to.

COMPROMISE BILL

The bill now in the Rules Committee was worked out largely by the Justice Department and key GOP members of the House Judiciary Committee as a compromise to break a committee deadlock.

The original report contains stinging criticism of the bill by Southern Democrats, and seven Republicans told it upon themselves to provide a rebuttal.

The Republicans called the bill the most significant legislation to come before Congress "in our lifetime," and wrote a strong endorsement of each of its 10 provisions.

Lung Cancer Death Rate Is 11 Times Higher For Smokers, Survey Shows

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—You are past 40: Been smoking since age 15 or before? Inhale? A new barrage of figures linking smoking to disease and death may seem centered on you.

The broadest study of the subject yet made shows death rates increase with extent of exposure to cigarette smoke, says the American Cancer Society.

Its report today came on the heels of a proposal by the American Medical Association's Board of Trustees for a research program on tobacco and health "beyond statistical evidence."

The American Cancer Society's report was based on 422,094 men who filled out detailed questionnaires and then were traced for an average of 34.3 months.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the society's director of statistical research, outlined the new findings at the 17th annual clinical meeting of the American Medical Association. The figures confirm previous findings and go further, he said.

HE'S PIPE SMOKER

Pipe-smoking Dr. Hammond reported death rates were far higher among cigarette smokers than nonsmokers, they increased with amount of smoking, and they were lower among ex-smokers of a year or longer than among current smokers.

The latest study, aimed at refuting challenges to six earlier ones, includes many new factors. One part of it compares death rates of 36,975 matched pairs (one smoker and one nonsmoker).

The "twins" were matched for age, race, height, urban or rural residence, and numerous other characteristics—even degree of baldness and frequency of eating fried foods. The smoker in each pair used a pack of cigarettes a day or more.

HIGHER DEATH RATE

Of the 36,975 matched pairs, 1,385 of the smokers died during the study compared with 662 of the nonsmokers.

Lung cancer killed 110 of the smokers, 12 of the nonsmokers. Fifteen smokers died of emphysema, another lung disease, compared with 1 nonsmoker. More than twice as many smokers as nonsmokers (694 and 212) died of two arterial diseases. Other causes felled 576 smokers compared with 329 of the nonsmoking "twins."

Among smokers age 40 to 69 who started before age 15 the death rate was 2.9 as high as among those who never smoked regularly.

OTHER DISEASES TOO

Lung cancer death rates of current cigarette smokers were 11 times as high as nonsmokers—18 times as high among very heavy smokers.

The American Tobacco Institute has said conclusive scientific evidence is lacking to show connection between cancer and smoking.

Dr. Hammond said other diseases found related to cigarette smoking included cancer of the mouth, throat and bladder, and gastric ulcers.

Oswald's Defection To Russia Upset U.S. Secrets

DALLAS (AP) — People throughout the nation saw Jack Ruby kill the accused slayer of President Kennedy and they're likely to hear nearly all the evidence before Ruby's murder trial ever starts.

Steps to set two formal inquiries in motion raised this prospect today on the heels of an eight-week postponement of the Ruby case, originally set for Dec. 9. The new date is Feb. 3, fixed Tuesday by District Judge Joe B. Brown because the prosecution and defense said they needed more time.

Fresh information came to light, meanwhile, about Lee H. Oswald, the 24-year-old Marxist charged with the Kennedy assassination, and Ruby, 52, a Dallas night spot owner who gunned down Oswald before national television viewers just two days later.

UPSET RADIO SECRETS

In Washington, a former Marine Corps lieutenant in whose unit Oswald served for a time, John E. Donovan, said Oswald's military discharge and departure for Russia in 1959 caused a stir.

"That compromised all our secret radio frequencies, call signs and authentication codes," said Donovan, now a physics teacher in a private school. "He knew the location of every unit on the West Coast and the radar capability of every installation. We had to spend thousands of man-hours changing everything."

It was learned in Dallas that

PA. DEMOCRATS MEET TO PICK '64 CANDIDATE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Otis B. Morse, Democratic state chairman, of Pennsylvania says the Republican-controlled state legislature is tampering with the election rights of Pennsylvania citizens in its reapportionment bills.

He condemned what he termed the banditry proposed in "an unconstitutional piece of legislation to redistrict Pennsylvania."

Morse made the remarks Tuesday before Pennsylvania's top Democrats met here to select a senatorial candidate to oppose the expected re-election bid next year of Sen. Hugh Scott R-Pa.

NO NAMES MENTIONED

Morse said the score of party leaders who attended an informal dinner were asked to survey public opinion in their areas "to see who the best candidate would be."

He added, however, that no names of possible candidates were mentioned at the meeting although several top Pennsylvanians who attended it have been cited in speculation as possible candidates.

Asked who he favored as the senatorial candidate, Morse said anyone who can beat Scott "and can show him up for the phone he is."

He said everyone who attended the meeting bitterly opposed the GOP reapportionment move and pledged to fight it "with every ounce of vigor we have."

JOHNSON WILL WIN

Morse said the group also discussed other legislative business and plans for a Democratic fund raising dinner in Pennsylvania next year. He said he would ask the Democratic National Committee for permission to hold the dinner in Harrisburg during May.

Those attending the meeting also showed "great enthusiasm" for President Johnson, Morse said. He said there is no question that Johnson can carry Pennsylvania next year.

Helicopter Lands On New York Roof

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was like landing on a postage stamp," said Stanley Szycher, 42, pilot of a helicopter that made a forced landing atop a Manhattan meat company plant Tuesday.

The Port of New York Authority retrieved its chopper Tuesday night by lowering it from the roof of the four-story building to the ground with a crane.

Szycher, who had three passengers, said the helicopters lost power shortly after leaving the Port Authority Terminal for LaGuardia Field. He landed on the 47x100 foot roof with minor damage to the craft's undercarriage and 38-foot-long rotor blades. The blades clipped a brick penthouse.

No one was hurt.
